Purpose and scope

This document describes routine annual-leave requests and recurring flexible-work arrangements.

Service rules

- Annual leave should normally be requested at least five business days in advance.
- Managers respond to routine leave requests within two business days.
- A recurring remote-work arrangement is reviewed every six months.
- Team coverage and customer commitments must be considered before approval.

Standard procedure

1. Open People Requests in WorkplaceHub.
2. Select the dates or recurring schedule.
3. Add coverage notes when the absence affects a shared duty.
4. Submit the request to the line manager.

Exceptions and escalation

- Unplanned sickness follows the absence-notification procedure.
- Medical information must not be entered in a general manager comment.

Records and retention

Leave decisions are retained for three years; sensitive supporting documents are stored separately by People Operations.
